

Charlbury Walking Trail

Beautiful circular walk starting from Charlbury train station in the Evenlode Valley. Keep your eye out for red kites and wildflowers while enjoying a picnic or treat yourself to a bite to eat in the beautiful Cotswold Town.

Charlbury Walking Trail

- * Exit Charlbury Station via Platform 2 and turn right onto Dyers Hill.
- * Walk along Dyers Hill for a few minutes, crossing the bridge over the river, then turn left onto Mill Lane following the sign towards 'Circular Walk'.
- * Continue along Mill Lane then cross over the wooden footbridge into Mill Field, where you can enjoy a rest at this popular picnic spot.
- * Continue along the path through the field, coming to a second bridge by the weir. Cross the bridge and continue through the metal gate.
- * The path continues along Watery Lane. Turn right and follow the path past the Canoe Club to Pound Hill.

If you visit during the rainy seasons, you may choose to continue along the alternative path to avoid flooding. Just before the crossing over the brook, take the path through a kissing gate into the field on the right, joining the Oxfordshire Way. Continue straight through a second gate to the next field until you reach another kissing gate in the hedge. This will lead you to the foot of Pound Hill (Charlbury Road, B4026), where the two paths now meet.

- * Taking great care to cross Charlbury Road, you will find a footpath marker opposite you, leading you into another field with a stream on your right. Cross over the stream and continue up the side of Pound Hill, where you will come into the town's cemetery.
- * Passing the wall on your left, follow the path through the grounds and turn right, leaving through a gate.
- * Continue slightly to the right, through the nature reserve and towards the Community Centre, carefully crossing Nine Acres Lane.
- * Enjoy the playpark, library, and venture into town to experience Charlbury's unique shops, cafes and restaurants before returning to the train station.

Beautiful circular walk starting from Charlbury train station in the Evenlode Valley. Keep your eye out for red kites and wildflowers while enjoying a picnic or treat yourself to a bite to eat in the beautiful Cotswold Town.